A member of our faculty since 1934, head of our Chemistry Department since 1938, and head of a recently combined department including Chemistry, General Science, and Geography, Dr. Beeman has for ten years been one of our best-liked teachers. He came to this school after several years as a professor in the university at Foochow, China. Friendly and helpful, he is always willing to spend extra time with his students clearing up difficult points. His classes are informal and full of fun, but no teacher has received more respect, devotion, and good hard work from his students than our Dr. Beeman.

In Memoriam

These former students of our high school serving in the armed forces have lost their lives. We honor them here for the sacrifice they have made for their country and for us all.

In Our Defense

Thousands of our students have left school and are at this time serving in many parts of the world with the army, navy, or marines. They are represented by the soldiers at the left.

Many former students of Oak Park have been back on furlough after serving overseas. Of the two pictured here, one has been assigned to limited duty because of injuries and the other has returned to the South Pacific.

At the left is a scene that has been enacted several times since our entrance into the war. Mr. Weimer is shown receiving the Distinguished Flying Cross, awarded posthumously to his son, Major Lou Weimer, killed in action over Germany.

The records of former students now in the forces of the country are kept by the Military Service Committee. It is the members' job to maintain the file and to keep track of every serviceman and woman. To do this they constantly check magazines, newspapers, and municipal records for news. They also see to it that the service flag is changed when necessary.

War Stamps

The Committee

A Home Room Agent

Tuesday is set aside for the sale of war stamps in homerooms. A room agent takes charge of the sales and is responsible for the money and stamps allotted to him. He in turn checks with one of eight class supervisors, who work under the direction of the faculty adviser and the head cashier. By buying almost $900 worth a week, our school makes an appreciable contribution to the nation's war effort.

Administration

The policies of Oak Park and River Forest Township High School are formulated and administered by the Board of Education, the superintendent, the deans, the faculty, and the business manager.

The busy members of the Board of Education give much of their valuable time to solving the school's problems. Although they are seldom seen around school and even more seldom given all the recognition they deserve, they work hard for the good of the school, in which they have a genuine interest.

The Board maintains its contact with school problems through its regular conferences with our superintendent, Dr. Youngert. In the four years he has been with us, we have seen his ambitions for bettering the school and heard his ideas for improving our building. The whole community has become aware of Dr. Youngert's work, not only in this school but in the general field of education, and of his sincere interest in the welfare of the village.

Working with Dr. Youngert are the deans. Each class has its dean of girls and its dean of boys, whose job is to plan the schedules and act as advisers. These eight men and women help us all through school with friendly interest and good counsel.

Associated even more closely with the students are the teachers. Selected as outstanding in their profession, these men and women constitute one of the finest faculties to be found anywhere. Always on the job, they give of their time and energy not only to matters pertaining to the classroom but also to many extra-curricular activities.

Needless to say, a school such as ours could not be run at all without someone to take care of the business; this job has been handled efficiently by Mr. Wilson for several years.

With such people at work on their behalf, it is no wonder that Oak Park students feel that their school has earned its reputation as one of the finest high schools in the country.

Student Administration

Student administration is the democratic and effective method of self-government by means of which students regulate their school, themselves, and their activities. In Oak Park High School student government takes the form of the Student Council, Safety Council, and Smoking Council.

Student Council is the most important connecting link between the "authorities" and the students. The council is composed of boys and girls elected proportionately from all the classes. It discusses problems such as cheerleading, lunchroom behavior, and hall monitoring, and this year initiated a student suggestion box. Its members serve the school individually as guides at outdoor assemblies and at the PTA meetings, and as aides in school emergencies.

Student administration of safety at Oak Park means direction of traffic on the school blocks, supervision of bicycles, and a continuous campaign for safety. Through specially delegated committees each safety problem is efficiently dispatched. Safety Council can be proud of the school's record.

Smoking Council enforces the official smoking rules. The boys on the Council are elected from the junior and the senior classes, and handle their own problems without a faculty adviser.

Foreword

Meet Hugo Bjork, a typical Dooper who will take you through the year at Oak Park and River Forest Township High School. Unofficially he has been around the school for a long time; now that more students know him and talk about him, we present him to you formally and officially.

Hugo represents all the students, both girls and boys, from the slightly bewildered new freshmen to the self-confident old seniors; and in following his progress through the year you will become acquainted with all school activities in the classroom and out. Hugo is an average student who studies "enough" and who always has an eye out for a good time. Maybe he's that new freshman in your gym class or that annoying person in your English class who always does his homework. Perhaps he's the one who walked all over your toes at the Junior Prom, or the friend with whom you share an occasional coke. He may be the joker who put confetti down your back at the Proviso Game. He may be your best friend.

You will watch him with his companions studying, taking part in activities, being an avid spectator at all games and plays, going to parties, and finally emerging in June, contented with the past year, and ready and eager for the future.

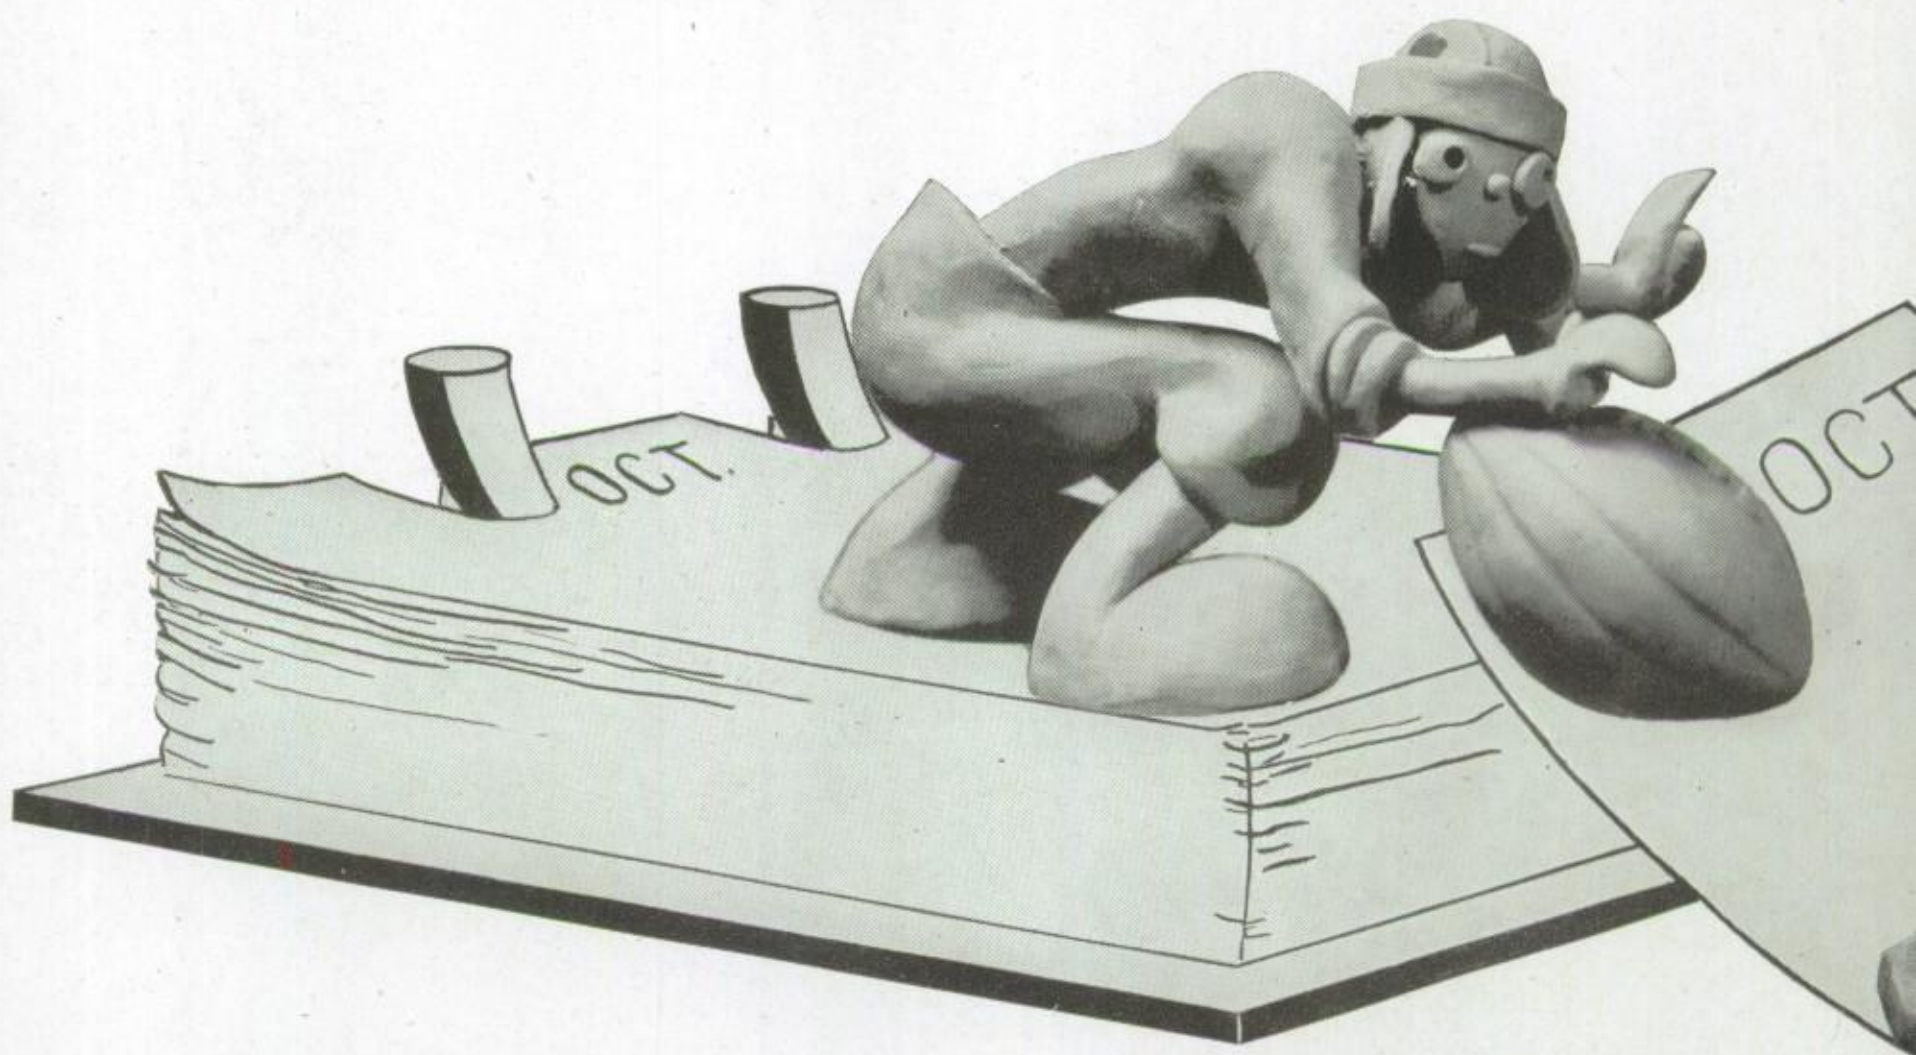

Fall finds Hugo peppy and eager after a long summer vacation, ready to start the year with vim and ambition. He may serve his homeroom by being an agent for the Trap or for War Stamps, or by selling tickets for plays, conferences, and dances. He plans early for the fall "musts," the Girls' Club Show and Conference. He may become a member of the staff of a school publication. He will undoubtedly join one of the many clubs open to him, and he will probably succumb to the lure of the athletic field. Watch him now as, with his friends and companions, he enters school and gets a good start on the year's activities.

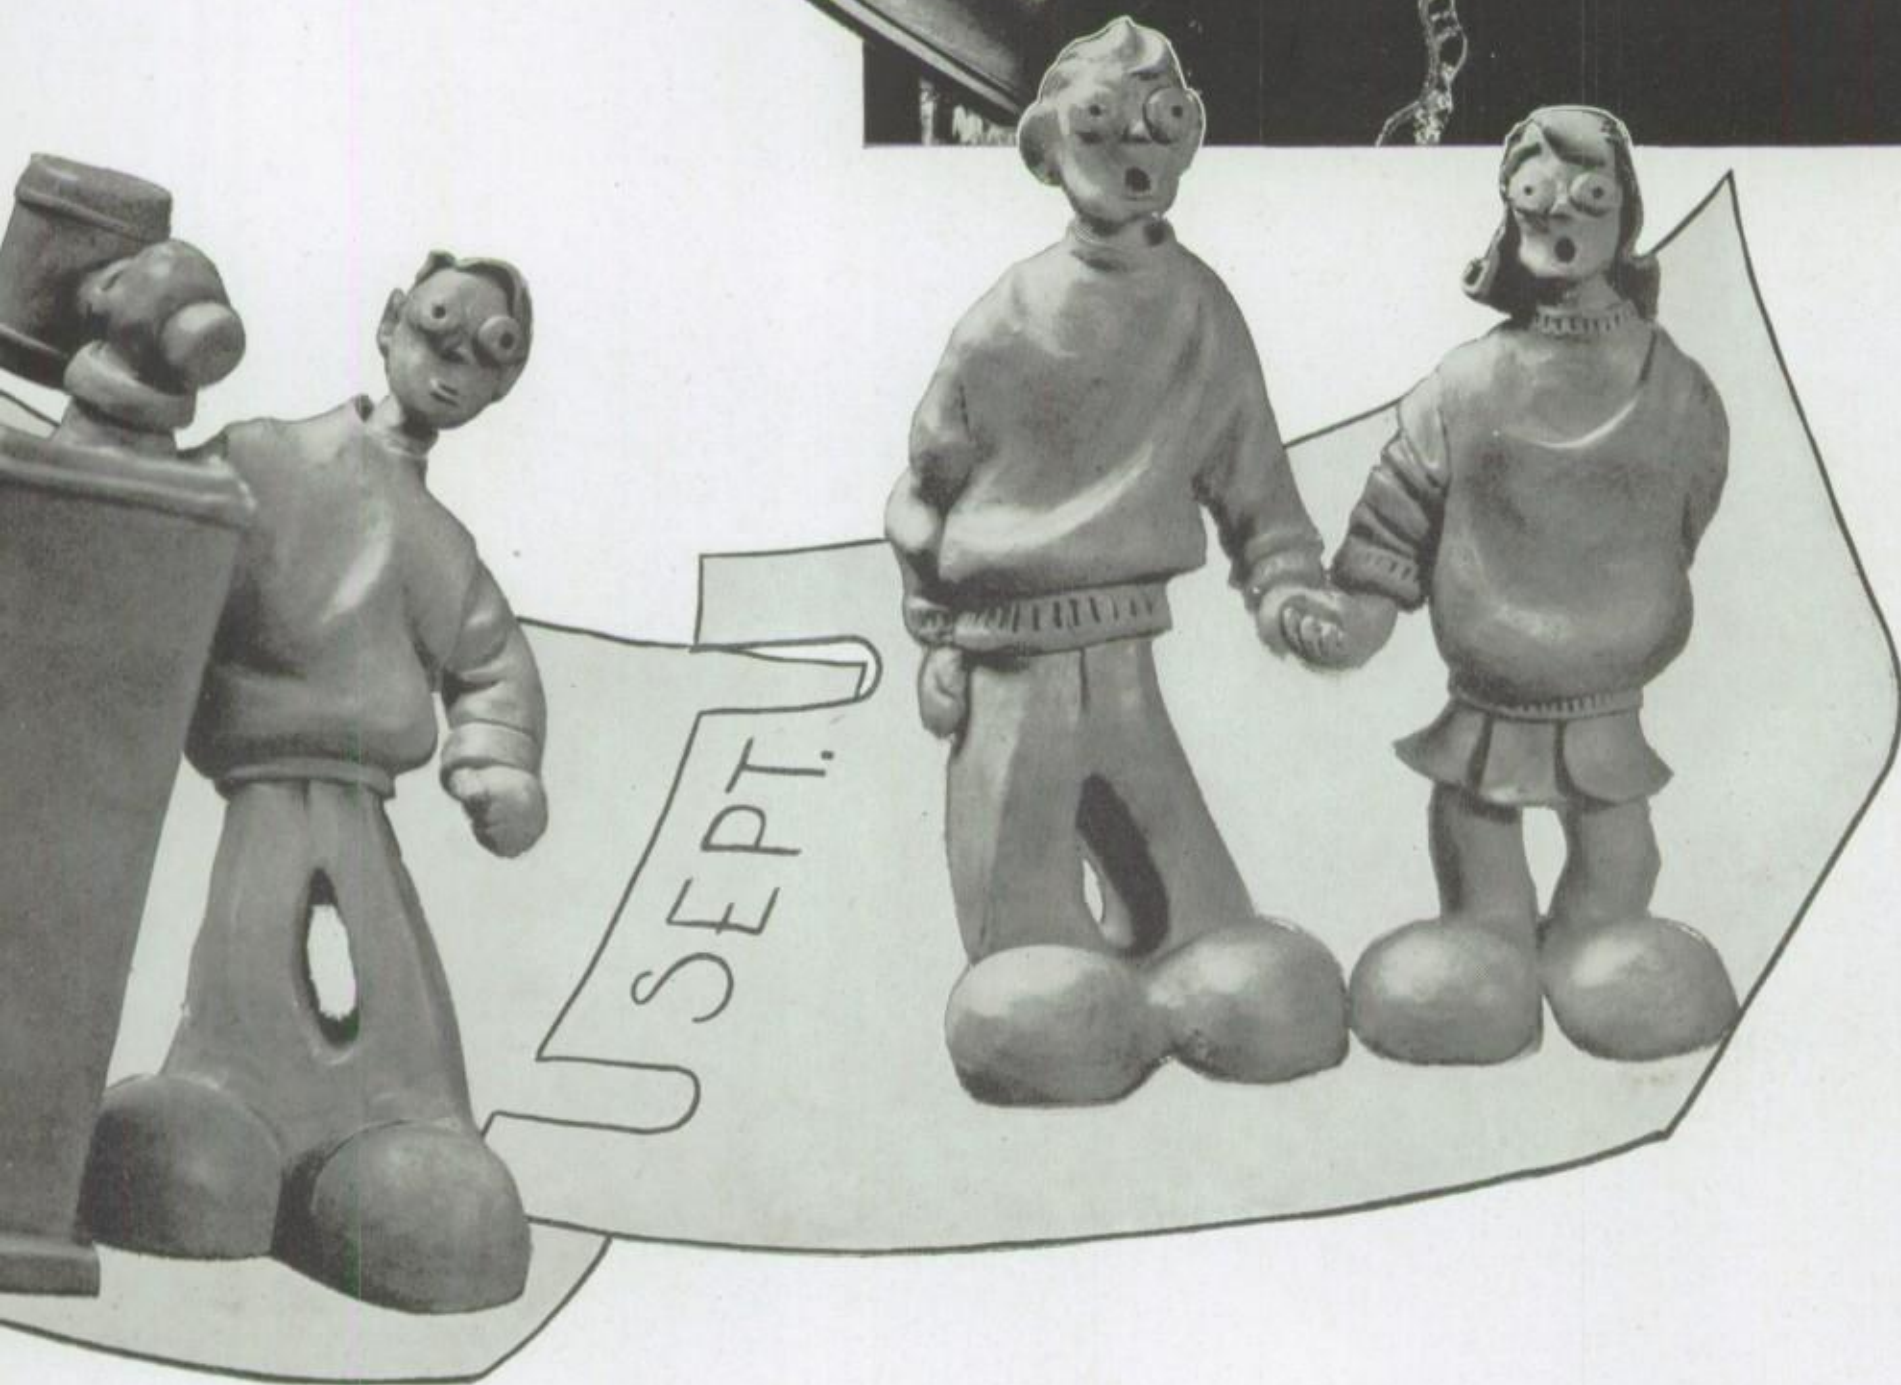

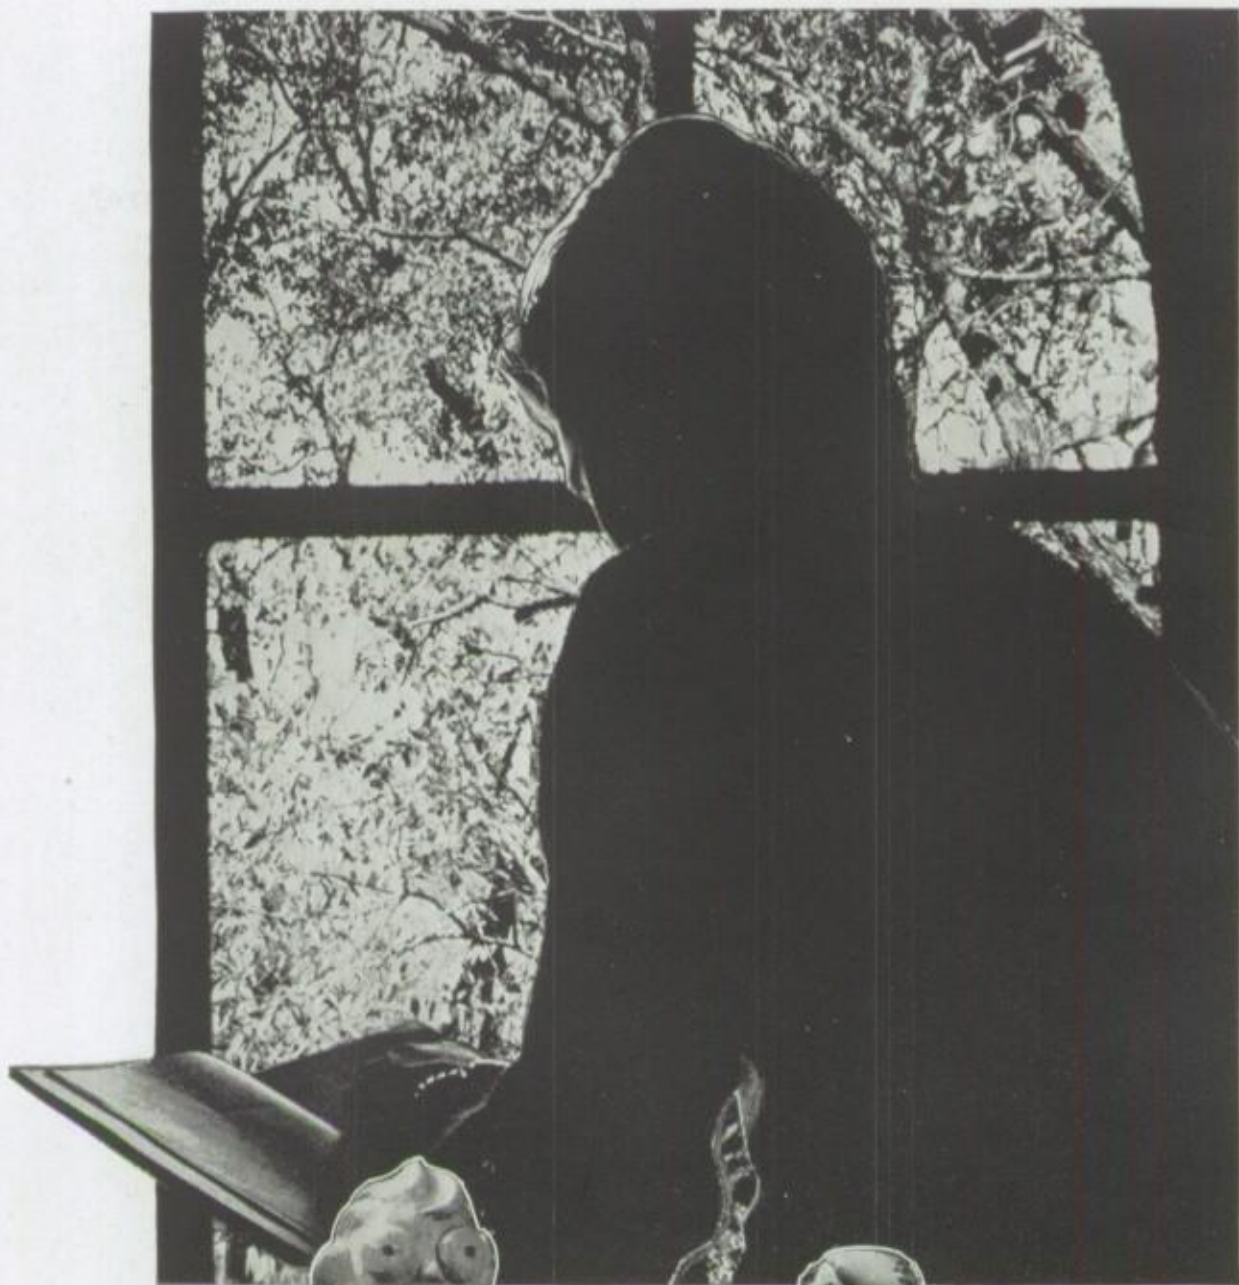

Winter—and Hugo is well entrenched in school life and busy with his many responsibilities. The Christmas season approaches, officially heralded in by Chicago Commons Tag Day, and, after taking in the annual music activities, he starts on his welcome Christmas vacation. Heading the activities of the new year are the final exams, for which he studies hard, regarding half in envy, half in sympathy the midyear graduates. In March Hugo sees the Senior Play either as a spectator or as a crew member backstage. A week later, he joins his fellow students in the Gym Exhibit. With the last flurry of snow, he looks forward to all the affairs that precede the closing of school.

Spring is in the air, and Hugo is fast approaching the end of the school year. As the days grow warmer, he goes out for baseball or track. Hugo Sr. prepares for graduation, while Hugo Jr. gets ready to be top man next year. Both look ahead to the three big events still remaining on their programs: the Junior Prom, the final exams, and the distribution of the Tabula.

Now, we say good-by to both Hugos as they give their lockers a final slam. We join Hugo Jr. in wishing the best of luck to his graduating brother; and we join Hugo Sr. in wishing those he leaves behind, all the fun and accomplishment that have been his during his years at D.O.O.P.

Hugo Bjork starts school as the typical green freshman. "Inside Information" explains the pitfalls of elevator tickets, tunnel passes and room 400. Even so, poor Hugo spends a difficult half-hour trying to find the lunchroom in the basement. However, he decides the school is so liberal, letting him have a whole hour and a half to eat lunch; then he gets a pretty yellow slip from Mr. Ketcham inviting him to room 107. Hugo is delighted that on the first day his home-room teacher in 102 is nice about his playing marbles and also makes five appointments to meet him. These adventures—later recognized as misadventures—do not disturb his dreams of being the star of Masqueraders, the president of the junior class, and the captain of the football team.

The Tabula Publishing Board is composed of students who handle the business of the school publications. It was created to take certain responsibilities from the staffs of the different publications so that the editors might devote all their time to writing and editing. The duties of the publishing board are: making the contracts with the printers and the engravers, soliciting the advertisements, ordering the supplies, balancing the budget, and paying the bills.

The board consists of thirty-three members—managers, circulating supervisors, and a junior staff. Mr. King, the faculty adviser of this large group, is greatly interested in the potentiality of the individual and makes of each untrained board member an efficient worker.

The Trapeze presents to the subscriber the weekly news of our school. Five editors and about fifty reporters during the year, under the management of Mr. Hecketsweiler, are responsible for the articles in print. The circulation supervisors handle the distribution of Traps throughout the seventy-eight homerooms. The junior staff undergoes a training period of about six weeks; it then puts out a junior issue, usually the next to the last issue for the year. Features that distinguish our Trap from other school papers are the personal columns—Trap-pings and Trapshootings, and the Spotlight, which presents each issue an outstanding person of the senior class.

Clubs

'Tis fall, and Hugo Bjork decides upon his club. He must make a careful decision, for he is determining his activities for the year. The club officers are elected in the fall; for all he knows, Hugo may be president, the less-publicized but hard-working sergeant at arms, or perhaps the treasurer, the lucky man who fiddles with the finances. Hugo may lick a stamp or dynamite the chem lab. He may blow off steam about Roosevelt or hobnob with George Bernard Shaw. He may air his grievances in Latin or snap a scene that will win the salon prize. He may learn something in Chemistry Club that Dr. Beeman has never had time to teach him. In Newton Club he may find that Pythagoras was a human being and not just an adjective before the word theorem.

The club has a definite place in the program of the school. It adds to the student's enjoyment and supplements the knowledge he gains in the classroom. The club takes the work out of school work.

Arsenic and Old Lace

"Arsenic and Old Lace" is a sure-fire play. The Oak Park performance, sponsored by Girls' Club to raise money for publications, was one of the best ever given by Oak Park students.

From the time Mr. Little raised his baton and the orchestra began the theme music which so beautifully forecast the atmosphere of the play, the audience reacted satisfactorily to the comedy and the melodrama. No one who saw the show will ever forget . . . "galloping insanity" . . . Teddy and his bugle . . . Mr. Hoskins and Mr. Spenalzo in the window seat . . . twelve bodies in the Panama Canal . . . San Juan Hill . . . the last glass of elderberry wine. Proper audience appreciation burst forth when the old ladies appeared in their funeral black, when Dr. Einstein fell into the window seat, when Elaine was threatened by Jonathan.

At the end, the outburst of laughter at the certain fate of the thirteenth victim was intensified by the surprise curtain call, twelve teachers appearing as the dead and doddering old men.

Boys' Conference

Very early after school starts Oak Park students begin work on Boys' and Girls' Conferences. It is particularly noteworthy that the themes, decided upon independently, reveal a similar interest. "Builders for Tomorrow" was the keynote of Girls' Conference, and "We Plan for Tomorrow" was the topic selected by the boys.

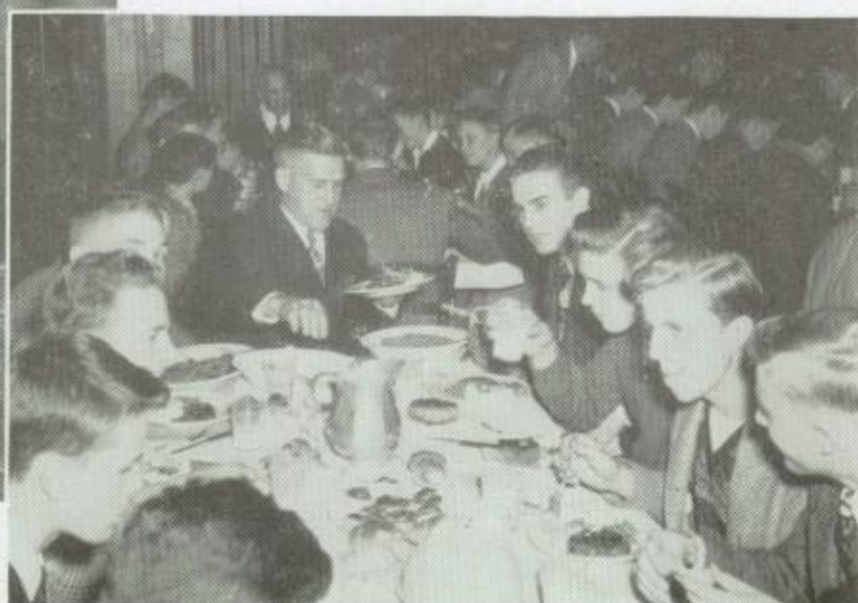

More than a third of the student body actively participated in Conferences this year. The attendance at the speeches, at the discussions, and at the banquets broke all records.

The Conferences, as in the past twenty-eight years, furnished more than just a "big week end"; they supplied the inspiration and material for serious thought which students have come to associate with Conference week end.

Fall Sports

The varsity football team finished the season with five wins, two losses and a tie. We won tight games over Morton and Evanston, were defeated by the Suburban League champion, New Trier, and also lost a tough game to Waukegan. To finish the season, we played our traditional rival Proviso to a 6-6 deadlock. One other game which deserves mention was the night game at Thornton, which the Orange and Blue won 9-6.

The junior varsity finished the season with five wins and three losses. The jayvees played the first night game in jayvee history at Proviso and took that game 21-0. The sophomore team this year had two wins and three losses in league play, but they finished the season with a bang by beating Proviso 27-6. The freshman football team was the only undefeated squad. The frosh breezed through their six-game schedule, taking all opponents.

The soccer boys were a little slow starting, most of their losses being in the first round of play. In the second round Coach Wood's boys either beat or tied the teams that had defeated them in the first round. They finished the season with six wins, seven losses and five ties.

Through most of the school year there are intramural sports, competition between boys not taking part in inter-school contests. There are intramural games in almost all sports. The most important are

Hockey

With fall comes one of the girls' favorite sports, hockey. Their enthusiasm is especially great at the time of the inter-class tournament. A great number of the girls came after school to take part in this year's tournament; every class period was represented. Two teams were tied for first place. Later, the third-period class won the play-off. This game marked the end of the season, and it was with a feeling of reluctance that the girls put their shin guards and hockey sticks away for another year.

Dance

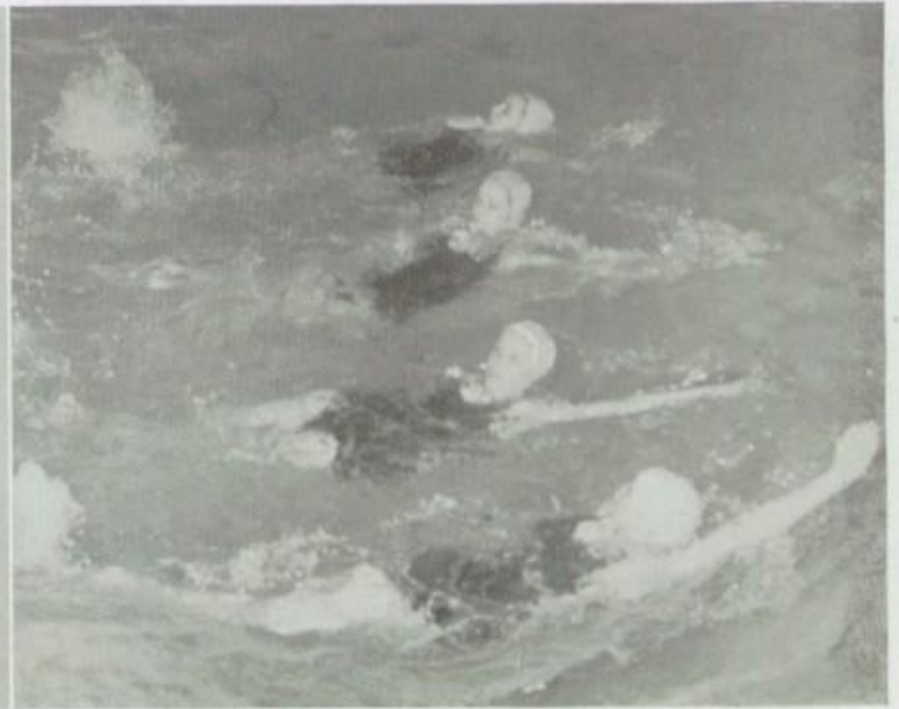

In a dance group a girl has the opportunity to express a mood or create an impression through motion. This is an activity that is carried on throughout the year, after school as well as in class. The dancing may take various forms, modern, folk, or ballroom.

Swimming

Swimming is another activity that goes on during the entire school year. In the fall, freshmen who cannot swim learn the fundamental strokes and dives. The next term is for advanced swimmers who are taught to synchronize their swimming. During this term is held the biennial swimming exhibit, a showing of skill in rhythm and timing. The spring class is for the girls interested in lifesaving and in taking the tests for a Red Cross certificate.

Loretta Davis, President

Atalanta is the club that represents the Girls' Athletic Association. A girl receives points for taking part in athletics after school and for passing tests of her skill and her knowledge of sports and of activities such as first aid. Two hundred of these points admit her into the club. After she has won the required number of additional points, she is awarded a state emblem. The club holds an annual Mothers' Tea, at which these awards are presented to the girls, and the various sports are demonstrated to the mothers.

Atalanta is especially known, however, for the sponsorship of the annual football dance, a party that always fulfills the expectations of the students. This year the decorations were huge caricatures of football players, cheer leaders and football officials, drawn by the Art Club. They brought forth laughter appropriate to the gay spirit of the occasion, the final event of the fall sports period.

Music

Christmas signifies music. The music department offers us a chance to forget our studies on the last afternoon before vacation when choral singing fills the halls and swells our hearts with Yuletide spirit.

Music comes to us from the gridiron between halves, amid the whoops and howls of spirited onlookers in the stands. The thump of the tuba, the blare of trumpets, the clash of cymbals, and the whistle of the strutting drum major are part of the football game.

The many months of work on the May Festivals, Christmas concerts and the operetta develop an interest in good music among the students, who place Beethoven and Tschaikowsky high on their music list.

The less traditional activities in the Music Department include those of the Glee Clubs, Reserve Band, Choir, Madrigal and Folk Singers, the Minstrels, and the Girls' Ensemble. Many students in study halls and classes are moved to greater effort by melodious voices rolling in through open windows. In the midst of a bristling reprimand by an irate teacher, a lost chord rumbles up through the ventilator.

Music is everywhere!

Christmas Tags

Tag Day is an outstanding service project of Girls' Club. In addition to the four hundred Christmas stockings made for the Chicago Commons, this year the receipts sufficed for ice cream for the party and a sizable donation for play equipment.

But Tag Day involves much more than "tagging" every Dooper. Weeks ahead, Miss Pomeroy's committee made and filled the stockings. Endless boxes of tags were punched out and tied by freshman volunteers and Girls' Club Council.

The senior girls visiting the Commons understood the importance of Tag Day as they saw the children receiving these stockings, their only Merry Christmas.

Christmas Seals

The Christmas season brings the annual contest in the sale of tuberculosis seals. Though the competition between the boys and the girls, (the boys won) and in the classes, is keen, the student body is united in its efforts. The exceptional sum of almost $10,000 was raised not only by frenzied individual effort outside of school, but by the sacrifice of many hours of study time in school. Homeroom agents and especially class supervisors started well in advance of the campaign and continued to check in seals weeks after the posters were taken down.

A Kiss for Cinderella

In contrast to the eerie spookiness of the Girls' Club Show was the delightful fantasy of Barrie portrayed in "A Kiss for Cinderella," given as the Senior Play. Over one hundred and fifty seniors gave their spare time for two months to rehearsing, costuming, preparing scenery, collecting properties and doing the thousand and one other odd jobs that end in a successful performance.

The cast of characters was unusually varied, ranging from the censor, "a formidable person carrying an executioner's axe," to the curly-headed little refugees who stole the show. There were the beauties, tripping down stairs with their noses held high, and the Lord Mayor, waltzing up as he took their temperatures. There was Lord Times, "the all-powerful press"; the King and the Queen in rocking chairs; Mr. Bodie, full of awe of his very competent sister, Dr. Bodie; and finally the policeman and Cinderella, the "little waif of the London tenements."

The audience appreciated the street light shining through the softly falling snow, the sight of the delectable ice cream cones, Danny and Lady Charlotte harmonizing in the last scene, Cinderella's "touche,"—and waited tensely for the Kiss.

Make way for their majesties!

I demands my rights.

What the audience doesn't see

What the prop committee doesn't provide

From the first rehearsal to the last performance, the members of the stage and lights crews are ready.

The stage crew must be prepared for any job from designing and painting walls to moving flats and dismantling a staircase. For the Girls' Club Show they were directed by Mr. Bollinger, aided by Mr. Fullerton of the maintenance staff, and for the Senior Play by Mr. Cooke and Mr. Sullivan.

The lights crew, directed by Mr. O'Brien, produced such contrasts as the murky darkness in the Girls' Club Show and the brilliant dream scene of the Senior Play. William Murray, a midyear graduate, captained the crew during the first semester.

Winter Sports

The varsity basketball team finished its season with seven wins against eleven losses. We lost several close games in Suburban League play. In our District Tournament game we lost by one point to Glenbard. The fresh-sophs won four games while losing ten. The victories were in the play of the Suburban League, in which we finished fourth. The jayvees won four games and lost five. The freshmen finished their season with two wins and seven losses.

The 1945 indoor track season has been so far a string of victories. The varsity amassed 300 points in their first three meets, and in the fourth defeated last year's Suburban League champion, New Trier. Then Oak Park regained the Suburban League crown in a meet in which five records were broken and one record tied. The fresh-sophs have kept pace with the varsity by winning all contests, including a Suburban League meet which wasn't decided until the last event had been run.

The varsity swimming team had a successful season, winning six meets and losing two,—to the state champion Lane Tech and to the league champion New Trier. In the Suburban League we took second place; in state competition we were fourth. The fresh-sophs duplicated the varsity record of six wins and two losses.

Volleyball

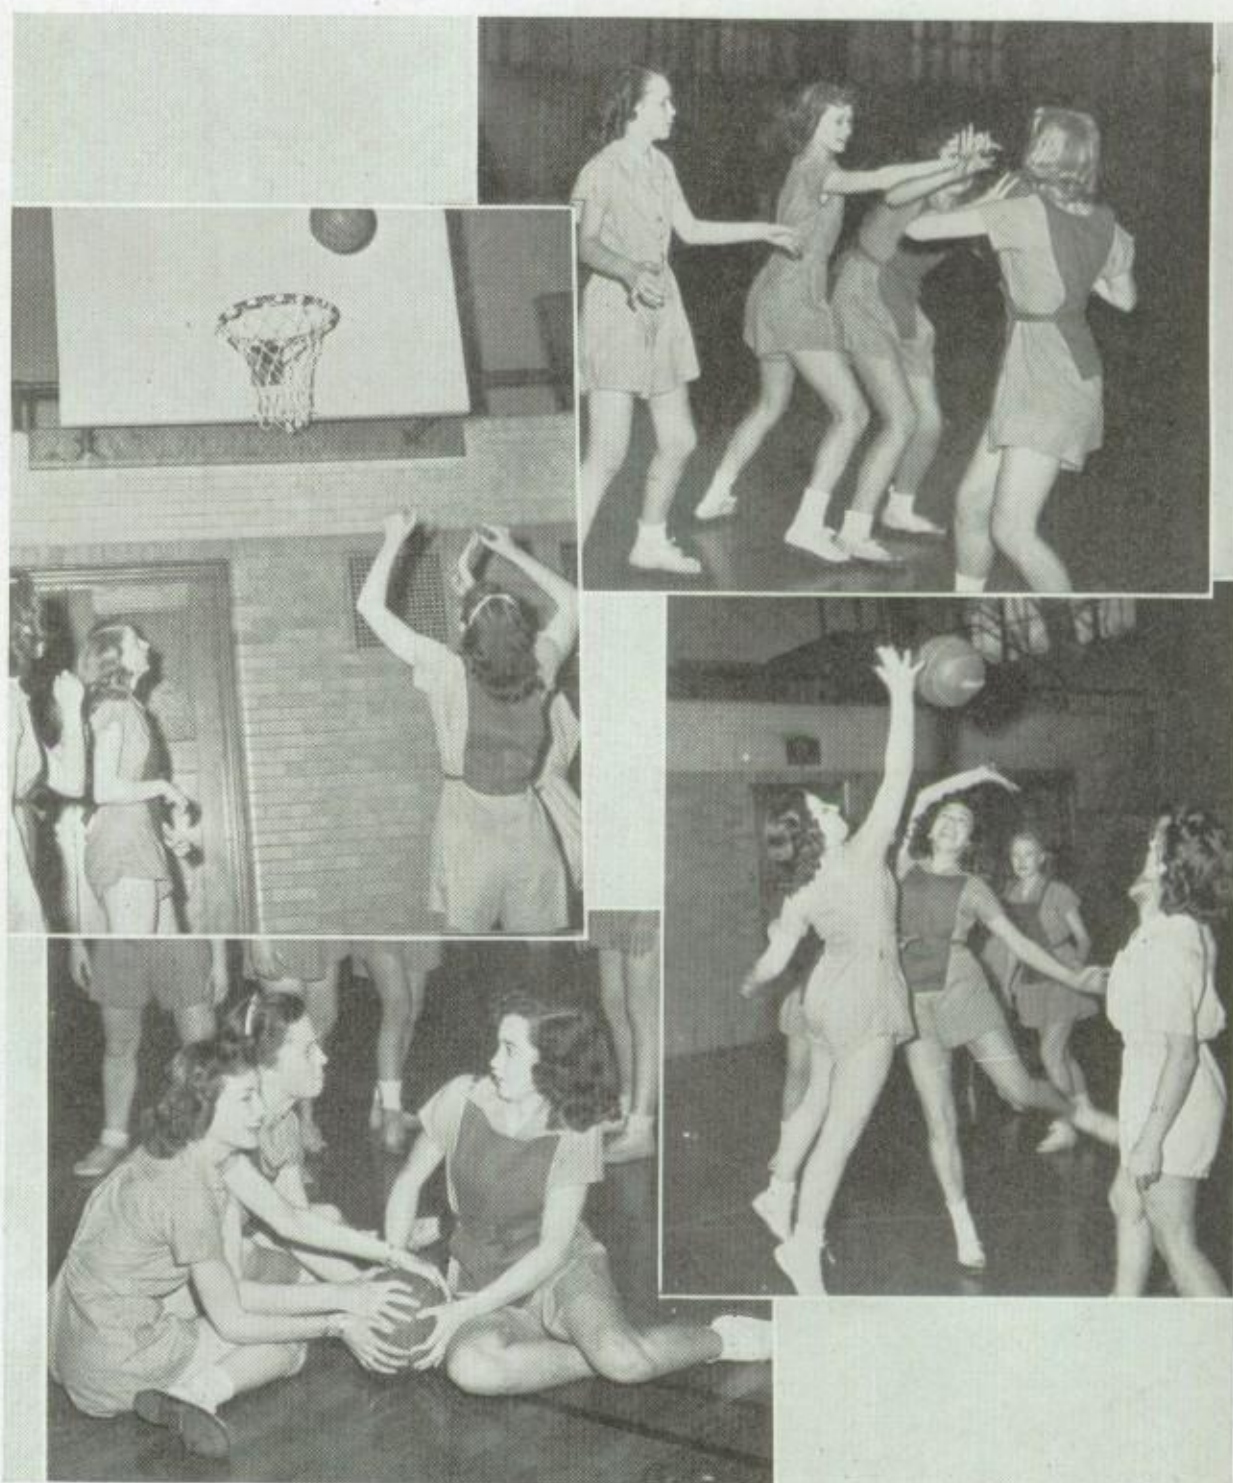

With winter come the indoor sports. To many of the girls, this means volleyball. Teams were organized this year according to home room classification. Finally from these teams, two all-star teams were formed, which one night after school played in the second annual Orange and Blue All-star Tournament.

Almost over

Although girls' basketball is not as strenuous as the games seen in the boys' field house, it is sufficiently active to draw many participants. This year a special play day was held for girls who had met certain practice requirements. Because teams for this event were purposely well-balanced, the competition was keen. Thus the play day was a good practice for the girls who later played in the inter-class tournament.

Ball-istics

Table Tennis

In table tennis, there is no definite time planned for practice; the girls just enter the tournament and then play after school according to schedule. This year fifteen girls competed. As the tournament progressed, eliminations continued until there was a champion from each class. In the play-offs of these four class leaders, Marilyn Strong became the champion of the school.

Dittberner, Sullivan, Wayman, Strong

Badminton

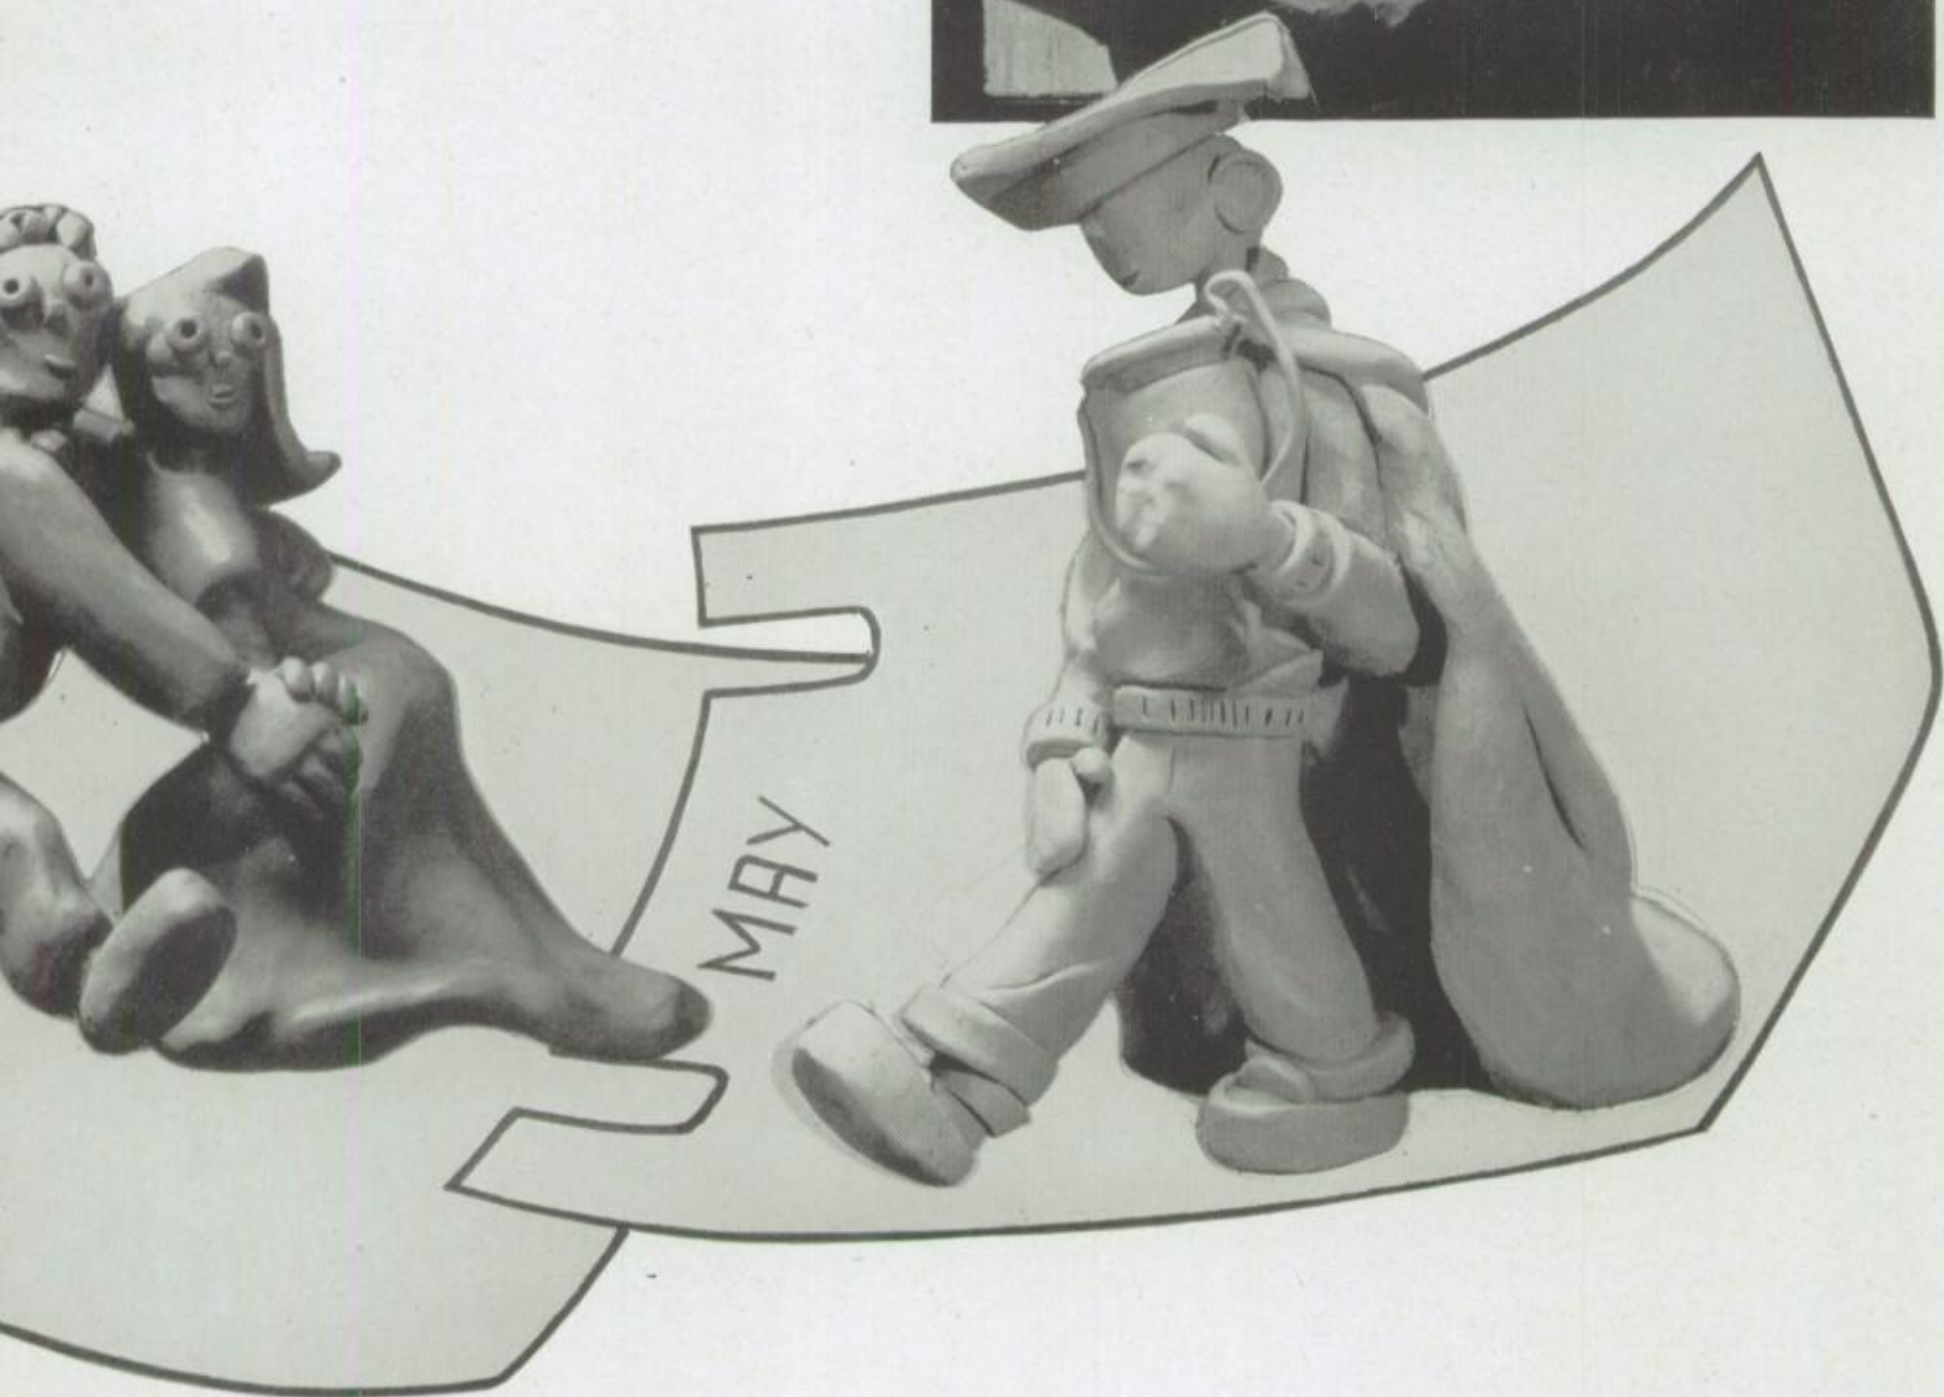

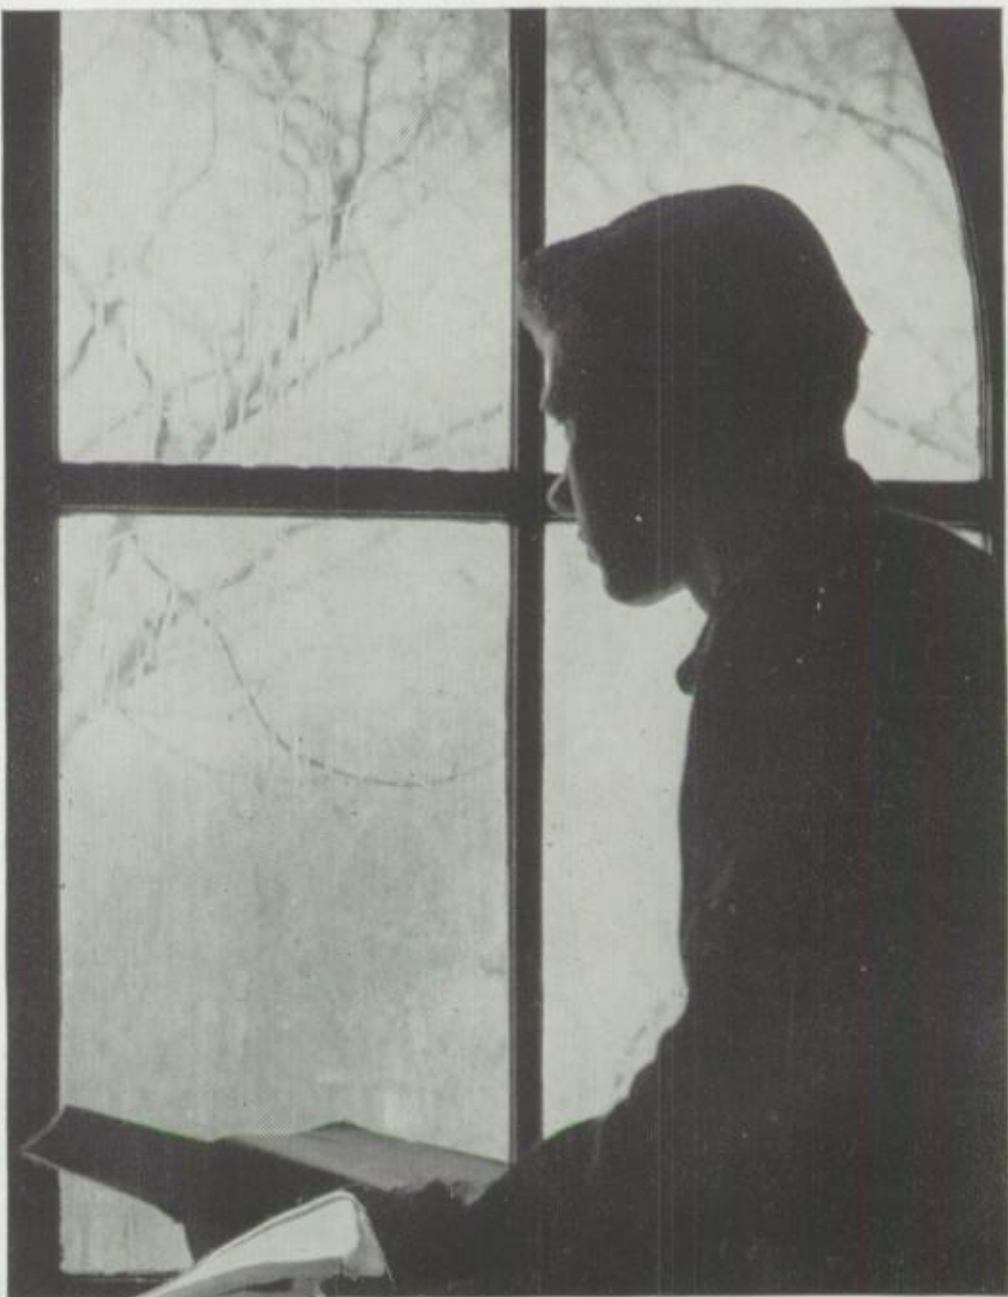

The only girls that could go out for badminton were those who had their own rackets, since conditions prevented the school from supplying them. Despite this handicap, many girls did come out for hours of fun and relaxation. The competitive spirit was kept alive with a tournament at the end of the season.

The Tabula

From September to May the members of the Tabula staff devote themselves to putting out a worthy annual. They schedule pictures, make page plans, interview sponsors of activities, write copy, compile indexes, read proof. Their work, however, would not be possible without Miss Turner—who charts the year's activities, consults with the printer and the engraver, and superintends the staff—and Miss Smith—who helps with the organization of the material and supervises the planning and the writing of copy. In the late winter months about twenty juniors, selected to try out for the next year's staff, are put to work.

Artist

The staff artist for this Tabula is Barbara Sheldon, whose clever work appears on the division and other pages. Her clay cartoons are distinctive and amusing. The cover design and other conventional designs are hers. Her talent is so varied that the grotesque and the beautiful are equally well done.

Photo Staff

A flash during a school gathering indicates the presence of Joe Biagi and his camera. Joe is skillful in taking informal pictures. Equally skillful with the taking of 8x10's, Ames Penfield in room 243 is known by "Will the people in the front row step back as far as possible?" The other boys, John Glidden and Robert Davis, are in charge of printing formal pictures for the Tabula and sales prints for individuals. These four boys have had the responsibility of taking, developing, and printing all the pictures for this publication except the portraits of the seniors and the faculty.

Projection Staff

The Projection Staff is an essential service committee of the school about which few Doopers know much. It is composed of thirty hand-picked sophomore, junior, and senior boys who give study periods to the staff work. They are carefully trained to handle the school's expensive equipment and are required to pass rigid tests on operating. These are the boys who make possible our fine program of visual education.

of strong hitting and good pitching strength. With this strength in all positions, we are looking for excellence in state competition.

As we go to press, the season for spring sports has not opened. The Oak Park track team is looking forward to a good outdoor season. Hopes are high because of the successful indoor season. The tennis team under Coach Noth has eight letter men returning. Several of these boys have a good chance of entering the state tournament. Coach Foster has a well-balanced squad of hopeful diamond aspirants, with possibilities

All of these boys are looking forward to monograms of some kind. Major monograms are the reward of varsity lettermen who meet the playing time requirements. Those who do not measure up to the minimum standard for major letters will get minor monograms. Letter winners on the other teams also are awarded minor monograms with the exception of freshman lettermen who receive numerals, giving the year they graduate, and a minor stripe. These types of classification hold true in all sports at Oak Park. In addition intramural shields are given to all boys on a first-place team in intramural competition.

As soon as the weather will permit, the girls joyfully move out of doors for their sports. The most popular of these are softball, tennis, and archery.

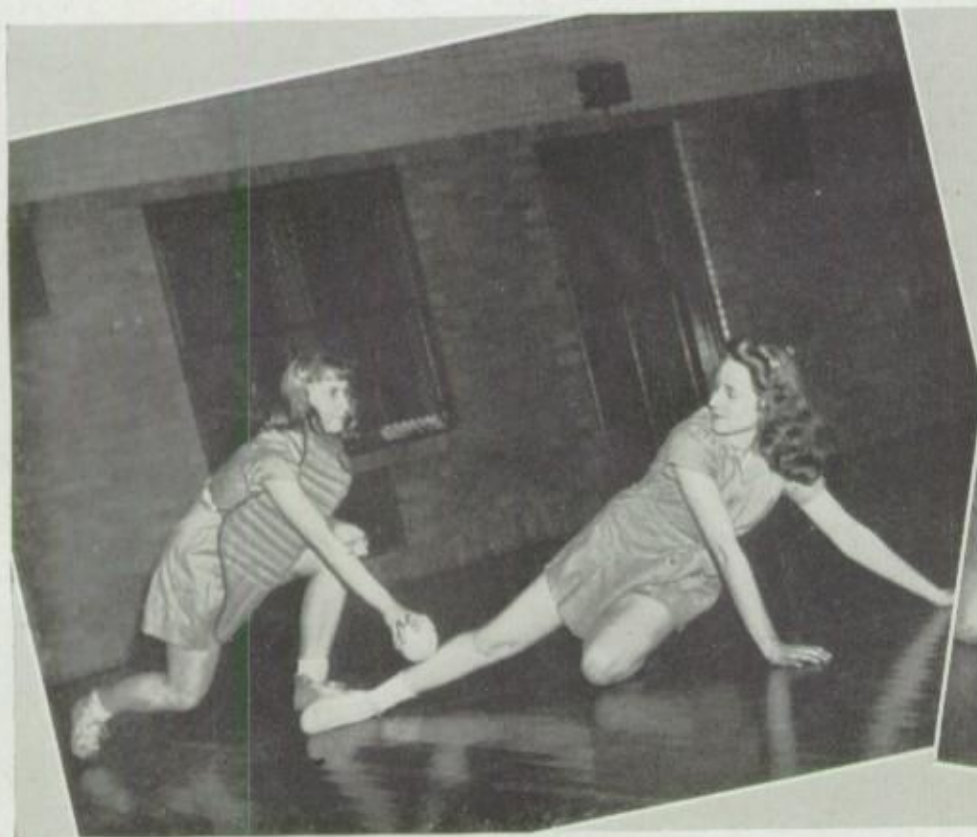

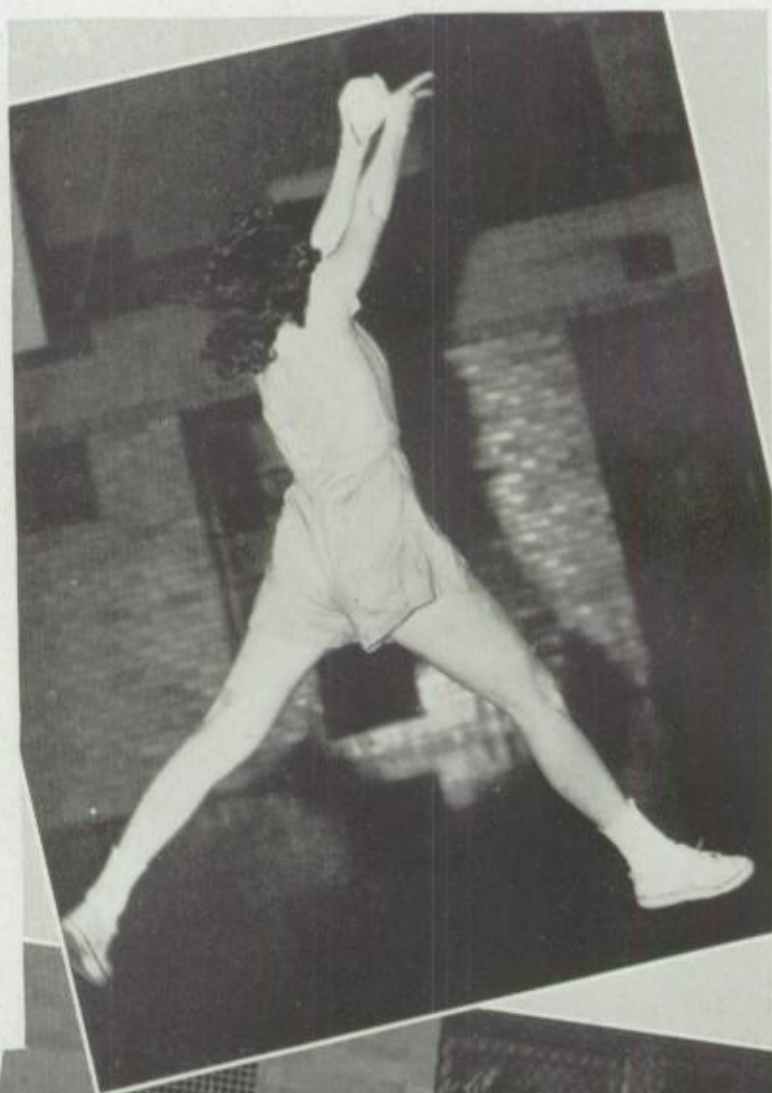

The most important event of the softball season is the annual tournament. It is well organized with definite teams, line-ups, and positions. The girls practice for weeks and the competition is keen and enjoyable.

Another tournament is held for those interested in displaying their individual skill in tennis. During the season they practice their strokes in order to have perfect form for the competition.

A number of girls are interested in archery. Here also, individual skill is displayed and proved in an annual tournament which ends the spring season.

Honors

The culmination of four years of high school work brings merited rewards. Perhaps the most important of these is the scholarship cup, given to the student with the highest average for all four years. There are many others, too, who have done schoolwork of such high quality that they deserve a place on the four-year honor roll. Several boys and girls have the honor of being commencement speakers, both in January and June, and this year one of our students received honorable mention in the Westinghouse scholarship contest. We here pay honor to those who have thus distinguished themselves.

OVER 53 YEARS IN OAK PARK

The graduate of Oak Park High, who opens his account at Oak Park Trust, is following the footsteps of several generations. Possibly his father and his grandfather before him also carried accounts here.

A bank account is a useful connection for any young person, and should be chosen carefully. Here you will find a bank small enough to take a personal interest in you, and large enough to provide a wide range of banking services.

THE BEST THINGS IN LIFE ARE FREE

There are a lot of things in this world that money can't buy. The best things in life are free If you know where to get them!

The one most valuable thing you can get in clothes is something that price does not control or command . . . GOOD TASTE! . . . It doesn't depend upon how much you spend but rather it depends on where you choose to buy.
